

SOUP

Tom Yam is one of the best known Thai soups. It is spicy, sour, with a fragrance of lemongrass. The balanced combination of fish sauce and lime juice in lemongrass stock is perfect, cooked with tiger prawns. If you like it hot, just add more fresh Thai chilli at the end.

Tom Kha is similar to Tom Yam but the fragrance of galangal is more dominant, with added coconut milk in the stock to bring a smooth flavour of sweetness, balanced with fish sauce and lime juice, perfectly cooked with chicken.

Pho Tak is a fisherman's soup with lemongrass stock and a fragrance of basil leaves, balanced with fish sauce and lime juice, perfectly cooked with seafood.
